TERMS OF ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class must be prepared to sustain an examination in Geography, Ancient and Modern, Arithmetic and Algebra, through Simple Equations; English, Latin, and Greek Grammer, including Prosody; Cæsar's Commentaries, four books; Sallust; Virgil, (Eclogues, and six books of the Æneid); Cicero's Select Orations; Jacob's, Colton's, or Felton's Greek Reader; the Gospels in the Greek Testament; or other authors fully equivalent in quantity to the above.

Those who wish to enter an advanced Class, can do so by sustaining an examination in the studies to which the Class have attended.

Testimonials of good moral character are in all cases required.

Many who apply for admission are imperfectly prepared in English Grammar and Geography. As those branches are not pursued in College, it is necessary to insist on a thorough preparation in them, as well as in the Languages and Mathematics.

On Monday morning, throughout the year, the Freshmen, Sophomore and Junior Classes recite in the Greek Testament, and the Senior Class in the Confession of Faith with an Exposition.

In the three upper Classes there are frequent exercises in Declamation and Composition, in connection with the daily recitations. Declamations from all the Classes weekly in the Chapel. Original Orations by the Seniors weekly.

TERMS AND VACATIONS.

The College year is divided into two Terms or Sessions. The Annual Commencement is on the last Wednesday of July, and the first term of the next College year begins six weeks after, and continues twenty weeks. A vacation of six weeks follows, after which the second term begins, and continues until the last Wednesday of July, the day of the Annual Commencement. Students are expected to be present punctually at the commencement of the term.

ATTENDANCE.

All the Students are required to attend Divine Service, in one of the Presbyterian Churches in the Borough on Sabbath morning, except when permitted by the Faculty to attend another Church, and in the Chapel in the afternoon.

A record is kept of the punctuality, diligence, scholarship, and general behavior of each student; a report of which is sent to the parent or guardian at the close of each session.

EXAMINATIONS

All the Classes are examined at the close of the first Session; the Senior Class six weeks before Commencement; the three lower classes the week preceding Commencement, when it is the duty of a committee appointed by the Synod of Philadelphia, to be present.

LOCATION.

The College is situated in the Borough of Easton, Pa., fifty-five miles north from Philadelphia, and seventy-two miles west from New York. With those cities there is communication two or three times daily, (Sundays excepted,) by Railroad. Fare from $1 50 to $1 75. There is also Railroad communication with the Northern Counties of Pennsylvania, and with Western New York, by means of the Belvidere, Trenton and Delaware, Western and Lackawana Railroad; and with Central Pennsylvania, by the Lehigh Valley Railroad.

EXPENSES.

Matriculation or Admission Fee, - - - -	$3 00
Tuition per Session, - - - - -	20 00
Fuel per Session, average, - - - - -	3 50
Room Rent, (an average) per Session, - - -	4 50
Boarding per week in the Refectory, - - - -	2 50
Servants' Wages, making Fires, &c., per Session, - -	1 75
For the increase of the Library, per Session, - - -	1 00

Students are permitted to select their place of boarding, at the Refectory, in private houses, or in clubs. The price of Board in clubs is $1 to $1 50 per week. No student is permitted to board at a public hotel, and in all cases, the place of boarding must be approved by the Faculty.

The Fuel, Room Rent, and Servant's Wages must be paid each Session in advance. The Matriculation or Admission Fee, thirty days after entering College. Students obtain washing at about one dollar per month. Students will require some money for Books and Stationery, and other incidental expenses, but it is strongly recommended to Parents to furnish them with little beyond what will meet their necessary expenses. Students furnish their own rooms.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

There are two Literary Societies in the College—The Washington and the Franklin—which have spacious and well furnished halls. Each Society has also an extensive and valuable library.

The Brainerd Evangelical Society has also a hall appropriated to its papers and library. This Society holds its anniversary and has a public address, on Sabbath Evening, preceding Commencement.

On the day preceding Commencement, an oration will be delivered before the Literary Societies. The Junior Exhibition takes place on the evening preceding Commencement.

ENDOWMENT.

The friends of the College will be pleased to learn that subscriptions to the full amount of the endowment fund of One Hundred Thousand Dollars, were completed at the commencement of the last year, and that considerably more than half of that sum has already been collected, and secured by notes. This places the Institution on a permanent basis; but in order that its funds may be ample, so as to provide for thorough instruction in all the departments of a College course, and to furnish gratuitous instruction to candidates for the ministry, and to other deserving young men, who need it, the Trustees have resolved to increase the endowment to One Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars. The following is the plan of endowment:

1. One Hundred Dollars paid shall entitle the subscriber to the tuition of all his sons, without further charge in the College; * or, instead of his own sons, those of any family, he may designate; and for every additional hundred dollars which the same individual may pay, he shall have the privilege of designating the sons of any family he may think proper to receive tuition in the College, as above.

2. Five Hundred Dollars, paid by an individual, an association of individuals, or by a congregation, shall entitle the individual, association, or session of the church or congregation to a perpetual scholarship, to which the party may appoint any individual they may select; and the scholarship may be devised by will as any other property. The incumbent on any of the scholarships to be subject, of course, to all the rules and regulations of the College, as well as the discipline.

3. The subscriptions towards the additional $50,000 to be payable three months after the date of subscription, and to draw interest till paid. Upon the payment of the subscriptions, script will be issued, which may be transferable as other property, as above specified. The funds invested to be secured by bond and mortgage on unincumbered real estate, or other good and sufficient security.

4. The Trustees bind themselves and their successors, that the funds thus contributed shall never be used for purposes inconsistent with the views of Christian truth as now entertained by the Synod of Philadelphia, in connection with the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States.

The Synod of Philadelphia has the sole right by the charter to nominate all the Trustees and Members of the faculty, and to appoint a Board of Visitors from their own number to attend all the examinations, and to that body the Trustees are bound to report annually the condition of the College. Subscribers and donors therefore have a guarantee that the Institution will always be wisely governed, and supplied with able and faithful instructors and officers, and that as long as that venerable Synod remains orthodox, no religious instruction will be given in the College inconsistent with the Standards of the Presbyterian Church.

* The regular tuition fees for one student, for a full course, is ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTY DOLLARS.

GRATUITOUS INSTRUCTION.

All young men of good talents, who are seeking the ministry, and who are well prepared for College, will receive their tuition at a reduced rate, or gratuitously if their circumstances require it. The same advantage will to some extent, be given to all young men of good character and talents. The Trustees design that no deserving young man shall be excluded from the benefits of this Institution, on account of his inability to pay for the instruction it furnishes.

Wm. F. Geddes, Printer, Philadelphia.
